Enter a lush and luxurious world of glass and fabric

2018 sees Ebb & Flow move away from glass and metal into fabrics. The fusion of the two has created a new range of table lamps and pendants.

These are inspired by a desire to move away from our more staple choices of material, and to blow our customers minds with a fabulous range of colour and texture.

The collection entails velvet and linen lampshades in 28 different colours and patterns. The lamps can be hung individually as a pendant or combined with one of our three table lamp bases; Lute, Pillar, or Futura - all designed by Ebb & Flow owner Susanne Nielsen. The table lamps are as all our other glass products handcrafted and mouth-blown.

Esthetics is the essence of this new collection. Different from previous collections is that the choices are left up to our customers, to mix and match as they please - we can't wait to see the results!

Extraordinary colours of the spring

The wide range of colours in the collection suits all seasons of the year, but of special focus are our delightful spring colours that unfold with lively branches and leaves, colourful botanics patterns, and dramatic brocades.

Lively teal

Imagine the leaves growing, and perceive how the velvet texture creates a lively, nature inspired look. The cool colour is combined with a warm, but earthy chestnut-brown futura lamp base.

Simple, but exclusive

It is just simple fabric, 100 % linen. Though, a rather noble look occurs when this warm and calming ochre colour is combined with a gold fitted Lute table lamp base. It adds a sense of exclusivity to the space around it.

Dramatic look

Drama is the new black, at least here at Ebb & Flow. We want to excite you and provide you with new possibilities.

Take a look at this detailed brocade pattern styled with a simple, olive coloured Pillar base.
